DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVEN-

Attached to the Envery. A plausible tale of a man who bought a loaf of bread and took away more property than he paid for is told by the Pawtucket correspondent of the Providence Telegram. The man was in a hurry to eatch a car. His impatience made the clark nervcus. She forgot to snap the string Dilly one year, by mail .......... $6 00 which bound the paper about the loaf, and away sped the man with the loaf, while the string reeled off behind him. He caught the car all right, and, although the conductor and some of the passengers noticed as he sat down tiese to the door that the twine paid liself out as the car rolled along, the man did not discover the tangle until be alighted. In the meantime the conductor was having a good time. As passengers stepped on the platform be cautioned them not to walk on that string, and they did not. It might have look'd mysterious to the people who saw the string moving along the street, for the unraveling continued until the bakery twine bobbin had been nearly emptied by the connected toaf a mile away. The man with the trend felt a tug of his loaf as he stepped down from the car. Then he followed up the cord, winding as he went. He was one of those strictly honest men who want nothing that does not belong to them, and the best part of the story is that he followed the string back, winding as he walked, and in due time entered the bakery and restored the ball of twine

Cheap Cais.

General Sir Herbeit Chermside was formerly a consul in Asia Minor. Once, in a weak moment, he sent a couple of benutifief Angora cats as a present to a findy in Constantinople. The indy was so pleased that she asked him to end some more. Sir Herbert gave his native servant some money and told him to go and buy two or three. Then came a demand for more cats from the consul's friends, and he gave his servant more money with which to buy cats.

This went on for two or three months, and the native servant waxed exceeding tot. One morning, however, the general, on coming ont of the consulate, was surrounded by a bost of infurlated verted women, who besought Molammed to curse him because he had stolen all their cats. It appears that the native serrant had pocketed the money for biniself and gone round with a see's and confiscated every cat to the prace.

A Probable Result. "If people were only compolled to practice what they preach!" sighed the theorist. "What good would that do?" demanifed the practical ninn.

"It would make the world better, wouldn't it?"

"Oh. I den't know. I'm inclined to think that whatever changes we noticed would be in the p eaching rather than in the practice "-Chicago Post.

Welcome Change.

"My dear," began the extravagant "Fve got several things want to talk to you about." "Ah, that's a relief!" exclaimed the hast and "What is?"

"To be assured that you've got the things you want to talk about. You generally discourse upon things you need."-Philadelphia Press.

EDITOR JOURNAL: With your permission I wish to correct the article in this morning's Journal, where it states that "George Scarfe put up the new electric light plant in this city."

The statement also appeared in the Gazette sometime back that C. E. Dutcher superintended the construction of the electric light plant. As there seems to be several claimants to that "superintendancy," I will state that the writer made the plans, and built everything percaining to the installation of the new electric light plant, and had no assistance from either of the above mentioned gentlemen nor any one else for that matter.

Mr. Hickmeir, representing the Pelton Waterwheel company, made the plans for the water wheel equipment and location of apparatus.

Yours Trais.

Storage of waters at the proper time of the year is a dreadfully hacknessed topic, and is given a wide berth by those must concerned.

As the Gazette quotes, "Jon't equawk natil the well runs dry," then set up your howls collectively and individeally; maybe it will ease your feelings, if it doesn't remedy the wrong_

Remarkable Cure of Rheumatism.

KENNA, Jackson Co. W. Va. About three years ago my wife had an attack of rheumatism which confined her to her bed for over a month and rendered her unable to walk a step without assistance, her limbs being swollen to double their normal size. Er S Maddox insisted on my using Chamber lain's Pain Balm. I purchased a fifty-cent bottle and used it according to the directions and the next morning she walked to breakfast without assistance in any manner, and she has nothed a similar attack since -A B. #### Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the embject, is narrated by tim as follows: "I was in the most dreadful condition. My tkin was almost yetlow,eyes sunken, tongue coated, pam continually in back and sides, no appetite-gradual ? growing weaker day by day. Three physicans had given me ur. Fortunately, a friend advised trying Electric Bitters; and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement, I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they eaved my life, and A Judge robbed the grave of another victim," No one should fail to try them. Only 50 ets per bottle at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store.
